The Backpack Program at Oceanlake Elementary School in Lincoln City received a boost recently from SYSCO foods, when Sysco representatives Susan Carey, far left, and Rob Burke, far right, delivered a pallet full of non-perishable food with a wholesale value of more than $300. Pat Robertson, second from left, and Karen Dummer, organizers of the program, were on hand to receive the donation. "The growth of this program has led to a greater need for food," Dummer said, "and you guys stepped up to the plate." The Backpack Program provides nutritious food for needy students to take home every weekend. Carey said, "We plan to keep giving" and to help sustain the Backpack Program.
